

UNIVERSITY OF HAMBURG

Faculty: Education, Psychology and Human Movement
Department: Psychology
Institute: Biological Psychology and Neuropsychology

Upon funding approval the university will have a position open for a research associate (wissenschaftliche/r Mitarbeiter/in) salary group 13 TV-L – with a starting date of April 1, 2012 or later for the following project: SFB 936: Multisite communication in the brain: Changes in large-scale interactions as a mechanism of adaptive plasticity. The PhD student will become a member of the Graduate training program of the SFB.

The position calls for 25 hours per week. The short-term contract will last for 2 years - (see also § 2 of the Academic Fixed-Term Contract Law (Wissenschaftszeitvertragsgesetz)).

The university intends to increase the number of women amongst its academic personnel and expressly encourages qualified women to apply. In compliance with the Hamburg Equal Opportunity Law, preference will be given to qualified female applicants.

Responsibilities:

A research associate is expected to prepare and run experiments, partially with EEG recordings. She/or he will have to analyze the data and to publish or support publishing the results. The successful candidate will supervise research students and will take over some coordination tasks in the lab. It is expected that the successful candidate work on a dissertation using partially data acquired in project related studies.

Area(s) of Responsibility:

Research related to compensatory plasticity following blindness; behavioural and EEG experiments, supervising research students, general lab tasks.

Requirements:

University degree in Psychology or related fields, strong knowledge in experimental psychology, experience in EEG research is of advantage.

Preference will be given to disabled applicants with equal qualifications.

Please send your application (CV, reprints, names of two referees) until February 24, 2012 to Brigitte Roeder, Von-Melle Park 11, D-20146 Hamburg. Electronic applications are accepted (quade@uni-hamburg.de). For informal inquiries please contact: Angelika Quade (angelika.quade@uni-hamburg.de, +49(0)40-42838-4723, www.bpn.uni-hamburg.de) Please do not submit any original copies of your documents; furthermore, your documents will only be returned to you if you include a self-addressed and stamped envelope with your application.